

HIGH SPEED INSPECTION SOLUTIONS

Dear Valued Pressco Customer:

Please know that our entire organization is dedicated to helping you maintain your productivity during these challenging days. In order to ensure that you are supported in every way possible, we'd like to point out several opportunities for you to take advantage of Pressco's services at reduced rates during this challenging time.

Remote Service Support

We recognize that your production lines continue to operate and that you may need our help. Even if we can't physically get to your plant, our worldwide Service team remains available and accessible to provide your team with:

- direct support for Pressco system installation, commissioning, and upgrades
- support services and system upgrades via the use of real-time, Internet-based technologies

Training

- Pressco's new Internet-based training portal offers Operator-level training courses for:
  - PET container applications (Base/Neck/Seal and FHCP)
  - Metal Beverage container applications (Inside of Can / CPX and DecoSpector360).
- We can even add a live, real-time coaching session, or arrange for a more extensive and robust on-line training experience for your staff led by one of our Subject Matter Experts.

We're offering access to these services at a discount for a limited time. Please contact us directly for more information:
